A Running Fight in Which Three Horse Thieves Were Killed.

HOLLISTER, San Benito county, June 22.—It is impossible to obtain a minute account of the late affray between citizens and horse thieves, as the members of the posse who went in pursuit of the robbers, and returned with the stolen horses and the arms and effects of the thieves, are very reticent about giving any particulars. Enough has been elicited, however, to substantiate the previous statement that all three of the robbers were killed. The names of the thieves were John Slankard, a former resident of San Juan, in this county; Bill Gray, an ex-convict, lately a blacksmith at this place, and James Eppenheim. The horses were taken from Bitter Water on Sunday night. On Monday morning a man named Dick Taylor met the thieves and recognized the stock. He notified the parties who had lost the direction of the thieves had taken. A posse, consisting of Richard and Cahoun Tully, George Hanson and Lewis Lowell, the owners of the horses, armed with Henry rifles and pistols, immediately started in pursuit. They came upon the thieves on Sunday night, on the plains near Huron, Fresno county, and a running fight commenced, lasting for a distance of fourteen miles, resulting, as before stated, in the death of the three robbers. None of the citizens were injured.

The Most Industrious Man.

Rev. J. L. Darrie in N. Y. Tribune.
"At the time I was at school at Hiram, Principal Garfield was a great reader, not omnivorous, but methodical and in certain lines. He was the most industrious man I ever knew or heard of. At one time he delivered lectures on geology, held public debates on spiritualism, preached on Sunday, conducted the recitations of five or six classes every day; attended to all the financial affairs of the school, was an active member of the Legislature, and studied law to be admitted to the bar. He has often said that he never could have performed this labor if it had not been for the assistance of two gifted women—Mrs. Garfield herself, his early schoolmate, who had followed her husband in his studies, and Mrs. Almada A. Booth, a member of the faculty."

His Third Attempt to be Married.

A Hackensack, N. J., colored man named Samuel Johnson is about to make a third attempt to be married. At the time first appointed for the marriage Mr. Johnson did not put in an appearance. The expectant bride forgave him, and a second day was set for the wedding. This time Mr. Johnson was on hand, but just as the party were about to set out for the church he excused himself on the ground that he had forgotten to tell his mother about it. He hurried away saying he would return in a few minutes, and the disappointed bride did not see him again for a month. Once more the young woman has forgiven him, and this week Mr. Johnson will again attempt to get married.

The Great Desideratum found at last. Castor oil made pleasant. Parry's palatable CASTOR OIL is equal in medicinal activity to the ordinary unprepared Castor Oil, but has a pleasant in place of a nauseous taste. It is easily taken and retained by the stomach, even of delicate persons. Children take it readily and make no fuss about it. Osburn & Shoe-maker, Agents for Washoe County. apr17

 THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1899

FOR PRESIDENT,
 JAMES A. GARFIELD,
 OF OHIO;
 FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
 CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
 OF NEW YORK.

THE NOMINATION.
 The Democratic candidate is General Hancock of Pennsylvania. He will receive the entire northern vote of the Democratic party, but will not be so strong as some others in the South. His record as a soldier is good, and it constitutes his entire history as a public man. He has no experience whatever outside of camp. He has been a soldier for thirty years, always in charge of posts on the frontier, or divisions in the army, and has become a part of the dull routine. He is an aristocrat to the bone. He has nothing American in his disposition or education. He is a military martinet, removed from the common people as completely as a Crown Prince or a Grand Duke would be. He was a good soldier, but we understood the Democratic party to say that soldier life was not conducive to successful civil education. General Hancock will not carry his native State nor West Virginia, and perhaps several other Southern States. One good thing will result from his nomination; the bloody shirt will have no more. The nomination of Union soldiers by both parties must close up the argument that the South wants another war. If they allow every man to vote his own ticket unrestrained, we guarantee that the war issues will not be raised by the Republicans. Standing as he must, solely and entirely upon his qualifications as a soldier, we do not consider Hancock half a match for the master-soldier, statesman, scholar and patriot—Garfield.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A severely scientific game of croquet was played in New York the other day, no ladies having part in it. It was a match between gentlemen and was played on a hard floor, the New York Croquet Club's first game of the season. The balls used were of hard rubber, 3 1/4 inches in diameter, and the wickets were only four inches wide. A grand tournament of croquet players is to be held at New Ipswich, Conn., on the 1st of August.

The suspension of the Savings Bank need cause no alarm. It is unlikely that anyone will lose a cent by it. It is unpleasant, and in many cases will work hardships, but in the end we do not believe any one will be loser. We hope to see all our citizens make the best of the situation, and those who get a few dollars pay it out as fast as they owe it, and not make things worse by every one sticking to what ever coin he can lay his hands on.

No Fourth of July celebration will be held in Carson this year. The Carson people will join in the celebration at Virginia. The Chronicle says that round trip tickets to Virginia from all points on the road south of Washoe City will be sold by the Virginia & Truckee railroad for $1 each, to accommodate excursionists on the Fourth.

Ida Langs had a brother and a lover in America. She came from Germany to be married, but when she arrived in New York the other day she learned that they were both dead, having killed each other in a quarrel. On the same day she received a message announcing the death in Germany of another brother.

AT CINCINNATI.

Closing Proceedings in the Convention Yesterday—The First Ballot Exalts The Boom of Hancock—A Long List of Candidates to Choose From—Three Nevada Delegates go for Field.

The following were the proceedings of the Cincinnati Convention yesterday, subsequent to the hour at which the GAZETTE went to press:

Massachusetts seconded the nomination of Bayard.

When the State of New York was reached the chairman asked to have the State passed.

When the State of Ohio was reached John McSwiney took the platform and presented the name of Thurman.

When Pennsylvania was reached Mr. Dougherty presented the name of General Hancock. [Great cheering.] Mr. Dougherty was listened to with much attention, his reference to his nominees always eliciting applause, and when the General's name was mentioned the delegation and others rose to their feet and cheered for several minutes.

Dougherty said if Hancock was nominated he would be elected, and he would certainly take his seat. [Cheers.]

When Vermont was reached Governor Hubbard of Texas seconded the nomination of Hancock.

Struggles of Virginia seconded the nomination of Field.

The role of States was concluded at 4:43 P. M.

A motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock to-day was made and the call of States demanded. The motion was rejected by a vote of 398 to 329.

Stop That Cough

With a sample bottle of Kaiser's German Balm. This is the most wonderful cough remedy ever introduced, being mild, yet positive in its action and soothing under all circumstances. Old and young may use it with perfect security. It is rich in the medicinal properties of tar, wild cherry and horseradish. Ask your druggist, Messrs. Osburn & Shoemaker, about its merits. They will give quantities of it and say it supersedes all others. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the facsimile signature of Dr. Kaiser on the wrapper and has his name blown in every 75 cent bottle. Samples 25 cent. Large size 75 cents. feb 3-daw

Horsemen Attention.

The undersigned has opened a Breaking and Training Stable, at the Fair grounds, where he will be prepared to break Trotting horses, having a long experience in the East and highly recommended on this coast and known to many horsemen here, having won four races with one stable of horses at the fair here last fall. Decay of the Teeth

Arises from various causes, but principally it may be attributed to early neglect or the indiscriminate use of tooth powders and pastes, which give a momentary whiteness to the teeth while they corrode the enamel. The timely use of that delicate aromatic tooth-wash, FRAGRANT SOLODONT, will speedily arrest the progress of decay, harden the gums, and impart a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes those ravages which people sustain in their teeth from the use of sweet and acid articles. Jan 1-1m DAW

MARRIED.

ALLEN-RINGO-In Reno, June 24, 1903, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Bishop Whitaker, Edward Allen of Carson to Miss Florence Ringo of Reno.

JOTTINGS.

—There is nothing of general interest going on in the District Court.
 —There has been no criminal business in the Justice's court for some time.
 —George Simpson has just received a fine lot of new potatoes, summer squash, green apples, gooseberries, currants, etc.
 —There is adobe soil at Watson's station, Pyramid Lake. Watson is building a store house of adobe bricks, dried in the sun.
 —Grasshoppers have already devoured nearly every green thing at the north end of Sierra valley. At the south end they are just beginning to hatch out.
 —M. D. Levy has sold out his stock and interest in the store recently occupied by him on Commercial Row, to L. Barnett & Co., a new firm.
 —A telegram received this morning from Sacramento to D. A. Bender & Co., bankers, reads: "Lean on us if you need anything." Signed, F. Miller. Mr. Miller is manager of D. O. Mills bank.
 —Joa. Wasson visited the Con. Emeralds and Judge Marker's mine yesterday and expressed a good opinion of the prospects. He came to examine and report upon them. Mr. Wasson left for Virginia this morning.
 —The Indian whose finger was amputated the other day was sent to the County Hospital by Dr. Dawson. The patient could not endure the confinement of the building, and wrapping his blanket about him, went out and lay down to sleep in the sage-brush.
 —Army worms are now very troublesome at Chapin's Arlington nursery. They are swarming over his place and attacking everything green. He has employed a number of Indian squaws to pick them off his plants. The Indians are said to dry and preserve them for the table.
 —Grasshoppers are displaying great fondness for clover this year, even preferring it to grain. The insects have spread all over J. C. Smith's ranch, but have not yet hurt his grain, although they have devoured much alfalfa. Patches of clover in the grain are covered with the insects, while the grain is unmolested.

Railroad Survey.

The railroad surveying party has not been organized yet. Mr. Anderson was not chosen chief as was reported. A Mr. Gray of San Francisco is likely to be the man for one party. One crew will start north and the other south. McTearahan will accompany the southern party. Mr. Davis is expected up daily.

The Firemen's Ball.

At the Firemen's meeting last evening it was decided to hold a grand ball on the evening of Monday, July 6. The following names are on the Committee of Arrangements: A. B. Williams, S. A. Hamilton, S. H. Rhodes, Wm. Mosher, W. H. Getchel, H. J. Thyes and R. L. Fulton.

PYRAMID LAKE, II.

Trolling for Trout—A Sport that is Somewhat Mechanical Yet not Without Excitement—Observations on Fish and Fishing.

Trolling with hand lines is the only way in which trout are taken in Pyramid lake. About eighty feet of line are used at this season. In winter a line much longer is employed. To the end of the line a "spoon" is attached by a swivel. This is a spoon-shaped piece of block tin which, revolving rapidly in the water, attracts the fish by its brightness. A large hook is used, which is tied on several strands of fine gut attached by a foot or two of strong line to the spoon. Minnows, which abound in certain parts of the lake, are exclusively used for bait. They are caught in small seines, and kept alive in boxes submerged in the lake. The fishing is done entirely from boats. The fisherman takes with him a can full of water, containing the live bait. The minnows are the fry of white fish, which abound in the Truckee river and lake, and grow to a weight of from one to two pounds. White fish rarely take the hook. Pyramid trout seldom take the young of their own species. The fishermen use nothing but young whitefish, the brighter the better.

THE METHOD OF FISHING.

Baiting the hook properly with a live minnow is an operation that requires some knack. Dead minnows are never put on the hook. You take your sprightly little minnow from the can, and hold it gently between the thumb and fore finger of the left hand. Then, with the right you insinuate the point of the hook down its throat and on beneath the skin, bringing out the barb under the belly or on the side, close to the anal fin. A minnow thus baited appears to have swallowed the hook, the point and barb alone being visible. The process of baiting is rather a surprise to the minnow, and it manifests its fear by active wriggling. After a few minutes of usefulness upon the hook, the minnow appears to lose its timidity, and remains passive in the water. As soon as the hook is baited it is thrown overboard, and the line is gradually paid out as the boat is rowed along at a moderate rate of speed. The fisherman holds the end of the line in his hand, and a swinging motion of his arm keeps the bait alternately revolving swiftly or quiescent in the water. The swiftness on the line prevent kinking and tangling.

HOOKING A TROUT

In this way requires no skill. The fish hooks itself, and when the fisher feels a tug at the line he hauls it in, hand over hand, and pulls his gasping prey into the boat. With a good trolling rod the sport would be magnificent, as the fish are all comparatively large, and their capture with fine tackle would require considerable skill. Using the hand line, however, there is more or less excitement attending the hooking and hauling of a large fish. Say a ten-pound trout seizes the bait. The contemplative angler, who is perhaps musing over the peculiar charm of his surroundings or taking a drink of something or other, as the case may be, is suddenly awakened to a realizing sense of his situation. He clearly understands that the strain on his line means business. If he is philosophic, he tenderly feels his fish, as it were, by gently drawing on the line. Should he rudely jerk the line, the fish would be apt to react by breaking away from the hook, unless the barb had established such close relations with its gullet as to render that proceeding impracticable.

THE WISE FISHERMAN

will slowly pull in his line. If the fish is well hooked, it will seek to seclude itself from observation at the bottom of the lake. If otherwise, it will be likely to come to the surface and thrash the water with its tail. But the relentless strain on the line gradually draws the fish up to the boat. The supreme moment is when the angler leans over the gunwale, takes hold of the line below the spoon, and essays to lift the fish into the boat. This is also the supreme moment for the fish. It may be dextrously drawn out of the water and in another moment be flopping on the bottom of the boat in astonishment at the complete change in its circumstances. Peradventure, if jerked from its element by an unpractised hand, with a short hold, it strikes the side of the boat, relinquishes its hold on the hook, and with a splash retreats. The capture or the loss of such a trout is equally an occasion for a drink among the bibulous, for anglers are alike inclined to thirst as to contemplation, and fishing is a thirsty occupation. Supposing that the ten-pounder has been safely taken aboard, the next thing is

TO KILL YOUR FISH.

If left to itself, it would thrash around in the cold perspiration of despair, perhaps do itself an injury and be hours in dying. Besides it would actively resist, in an unreasoning way, those forcible measures which must be employed to disengage it from the hook. Therefore the merciful and considerate angler will at once proceed to dispatch the captive. This he will not do by jumping upon the fish, or by indiscriminately pounding it with an oar or the water jug. With the left hand he gently yet firmly grasps it just back of the ears, and with the other smartly raps it over the head with a short, heavy stick provided for the purpose. While undergoing execution, the fish seems to realize the fatal nature of the operation, and emits

A PECULIAR CRY OF DISTRESS.

This noise might perhaps be better described as a grunt, and seems to be, as it were, squeezed out of the fish. It falls upon the listening ear with a melancholy cadence that conveys the idea of mortal agony, and has a plaintiveness that is all its own. A vigorous application of the stick soon resigns the fish to his fate, however. It ceases its importunate complainings, desists from wagging its tail, and meets its death apparently with the utmost sang froid and composure of manner. Speaking generally, there is good trout fishing the year round. There are days when the fish, for some inscrutable reason, will not bite. Only two or three fish may respond to the fisherman's patient efforts in a whole day. Or he may catch something short of a hundred in the same time.

IN TWO HOURS' TROLLING upon the lake, the writer caught eighteen trout, whose combined weight was fifty pounds. The largest weighed six pounds. And it was not a very good day for fishing either. There are places where good fishing can nearly always be had, and others where trout can be caught but seldom. The best fishing is near the shore of the mainland or the island. There is an island in the lake of which strange stories are told. It is said to be tenanted by where broad acres are white with brooding pelicans, and where untamed goats butt in their reckless frolic against "the wild man," who owes the human race a grudge which he is fain to take out of the rattlesnakes and the pelicans. Said the historian of a recent expedition, addressing a truth-loving and matter-of-fact lake-dweller, who had been on the island: "Speaking moderately, how many rattlesnakes do you suppose there are on the island?" "Millions," was the answer. "And the pelicans?" "Acres," was the reply. "Do you see that big white spot on the island?" continued the resident. "Yes; I see that white spot." "Well; the island is eight miles away and that white spot is pelicans." It was then determined to make that rattlesnake and pelican hunt upon the island, of which some account will appear in a succeeding number of the GAZETTE.

The Madeline Road.

The Modoc Independent says: Friday afternoon a number of persons interested in the building of the new wagon road from Reno to Alturas, met and proceeded to business. On motion of L. C. Estes, Capt. C. A. Merrill was elected President of the meeting. The election of officers resulted as follows: L. C. Estes, Treasurer; D. C. Slater, Secretary; D. McDonald, Viewer of the road; and C. A. Merrill, General Superintendent. A committee of three, consisting of J. Mark, R. A. West and C. A. Merrill were appointed to solicit contributions for building the road. The proposed road is to run via Honey Lake Valley, Pete's Valley, Madeline Plains, and South Fork to Alturas. There is very little work to be done, and it is estimated that $1,500 will put it through and give us an outlet that will be available at all times of the year. The distance from Alturas to Reno will be but 153 miles, shortening the old route twenty-five miles. This proposed road is a thoroughfare that is of vast importance to this county. It will give us a route that can always be traveled, will enable merchants to ship goods whenever desired, will enable the traveler to travel at less expense and the teamster to make a profit on his work. The people from South Fork to Lakeview are to be benefitted by the building of this road.

New Base Ball Club.

The Alerts and the Paralyzers of Reno have disbanded, and a new base ball club, known as the "Live Oak," has absorbed most of their good members. The officers of the Live Oak are, L. L. Ward, President; H. H. Voorhees, Secretary; Mark Barnett, Treasurer; and G. M. O'Call, Captain. O'Call is pitcher, Rice catcher, Hoffman first baseman, Ward second baseman, Voorhees third baseman, Williams short stop, Smith left fielder, Hudson center fielder, Barnett right fielder. These make a good nine. They are not afraid of the Carson Socials and have accepted their challenge to play a game. The time for the match is not yet fixed. It is thought that the Wadsworth club will play with the Live Oaks here on July 5.

An Indian War Averted.

Captain Sam, the Pinte chief, returned to the Comstock yesterday from Carson, and informed a Chronicle reporter that the trouble between his tribe and the Washoes has been settled, and that war will not be declared. Sam says fighting is played out; there is nothing in it. Captain Joe of the Washoes is willing to punish the Indian who assaulted the Pinte squaw on Cedar hill. Sam says Joe will "look him up; mebbe kill him. No use fight about one bad man."

A Hot Country.

Conductor Oswald has returned from a trip to Arizona. He told the Silver State that between Yuma and Tucson the mercury goes up to 125 degrees in the shade in the daytime, and one night, while he was there, it stood at 113 at midnight.

BY TELEGRAPH.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES!

Hancock of Pennsylvania for President.

English of Connecticut for Vice President.

The Work Done in Three Ballots—Three Nevada Delegates Vote for Field—John Kelly Humble and Repentant—The Rush to Get on the Winning Side—Great Tumult—Tilden Declines Again.

Another Letter of Renunciation. CINCINNATI, June 24.—The Convention was called to order at 10:31 A. M. The House crammed and the weather sultry.

Peckham, of Albany, New York, took the platform and said that the New York delegation had received a letter from Tilden, renouncing his candidacy for the Presidency.

New York for Randall. Mr. Peckham then presented the letter and said that New York had agreed on a candidate and his name was Randall, of Pennsylvania.

The roll of States was then called on a second ballot.

The Second Ballot. Hancock 316; Bayard 113; Field 65 1/2; Hendricks 31; Thurman 50; Tilden 63 1/2; Randall 129; Jewett 1; Parker 2; English 19.

Wisconsin then changed her vote to 20 for Hancock, making his total 336. (Great excitement, confusion, and cheering.) New Jersey changed vote to 18 for Hancock.

A number of chairmen and delegates are standing on their chairs endeavoring to be heard.

Pennsylvania has changed vote for Hancock.—New York has changed 70 votes for Hancock.

The roll of States has been ordered called. Down to Georgia all votes are solid for Hancock.

Third and Last Ballot.

Official.—Hancock's vote 705; Hendricks' 30; Bayard's 2; Tilden 1.

Hancock's Nomination Made Unanimous.

The nomination of Hancock has been made unanimous. There was not a dissenting vote.

The Anti-Chinese Plank.

CINCINNATI, June 24.—The following is the substance of the Chinese plank in the platform: It calls for an amendment of the Burlingame treaty, and for no more Chinese immigration, except for travel, education and foreign commerce, and therein carefully guarded.

Kelley Seeks Forgiveness.

John Kelley made a speech in which he said that the nomination of Hancock unites the Democracy of New York and asks that all past differences be forgotten.

English for Vice-President.

English, of Connecticut, was nominated for Vice-President. The nomination was made unanimous.

Final Adjournment.

At 3 P. M. the Convention adjourned sine die.

PUBLIC MEETING.

A public meeting for the purpose of making arrangements to celebrate on the Fourth of July will be held in Justice Young's office this evening at 7:30 o'clock. No provision has yet been made for any celebration of Independence day, and unless something is done immediately it will pass by unobserved. Reno should manifest some patriotic spirit on that occasion, and the citizens should turn out tonight and do something to make the day duly celebrated.

Fourth of July Arrangement.

The Committee of Arrangements have resolved to invite all ladies and children to the procession, and recommend for handsome and fashionable dress goods, for calicoes, lawns, piques and other white goods, for Lisle thread silk gloves and mitts, white and fancy hose, silk and linen bordered handkerchiefs, dusters and sashes, Isaac Barnett's immense assortment, he having reduced for this occasion his entire stock 25 per cent. Sale has commenced. Hurry and get your goods.

L. Fredrick pays the highest price for old gold.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Garrard is back from a trip to Candelaria.

Clem Lemery is getting along well at the French Hospital in San Francisco.

Mr. Wellman, a noted rancher, was in town yesterday. He had with him a fine, new, blue saddle blanket.

F. Coffin is in town. He says the northern road depends upon moneyed men East, who he thinks are favorable to it.

Bishop Whitaker leaves to-night for his annual visitation to the eastern part of the State. Mrs. Whitaker returns to the Comstock on Monday.

The marriage of Miss Florence Ringo to Edward Allan of Carson was a very quiet affair. The ceremony was performed at Mr. Ringo's house by Bishop Whitaker, a very few of the near friends of the young couple being present. The pair left on the overland train last evening for a trip to Lake Tahoe via Truckee. They will live in Carson hereafter.

The Reno Savings Bank Suspends.

A card bearing the word "suspended," was found pasted on the inside of the glass door of the Reno Savings Bank this morning. The doors failed to open at the usual hour, which confirmed the story of the card. A GAZETTE reporter interviewed M. C. Lake, the president, who said he knew nothing at all about the matter, as it was entirely unexpected. It is said that he put $400 in yesterday, which shows that he had no idea of what was coming. J. H. Kinkead, the manager, is suffering from nervous prostration, brought on by a week's hard work to save the bank, by loss of sleep, and worry. He went to Virginia yesterday, expecting to get some money there, but was disappointed. Their drafts went to protest this morning in San Francisco at the Anglo California Bank. Mr. Kinkead says there have been no losses in stocks but that the bank has done too much business on its capital. Its money has been loaned on good security, but when notes were due the money was not to be had. So the only thing to do was to renew them. Mr. Kinkead believes there are abundant assets to meet all the liabilities and that no one will lose a dollar. It is impossible to give exact figures on either side at present. Mr. Crockett drove over from Carson, reaching Reno at 5 o'clock this morning, took out what coin belonged to the state and went back with it on the train.

It is an established fact that Davidson gives the best satisfaction in repairing fine watches and jewelry.

No Watchmaker on the Coast has a better reputation for fair dealing and excellent work than I. Fredrick.

Reno, June 9, 1890-14

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE issued out of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for Washoe County, State of Nevada, duly attested on the 15th day of June, A. D. 1890, to me directed and delivered on the 15th day of June, A. D. 1890, a judgment recovered in said Court on the 9th day of April, A. D. 1890, in favor of Fred Bosch, Plaintiff, and against L. Waterman, et al. Defendants, for the sum of Four Hundred Sixty-nine and 80/100 dollars, together with fifty-one dollars, costs and disbursements at the date of said judgment, and $5.00 accruing costs, I have levied upon the following described real property, to wit: Lot 2 (2) in Block 11 in the town of Reno, Washoe County, Nevada. Notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the sixth (6th) day of July, A. D. 1890, between the hours of 9 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M., to wit: at 11 o'clock A. M., in front of the Court House door, at Reno, Washoe County, State of Nevada, I will sell at public auction the above described property, to the highest and best bidder for cash, to satisfy said judgment, costs and accruing costs.

Dated Reno, June 15, 1890.

Notice.

TO B. T. HALE, JOHN POLLARD, Z. L. King, D. G. Webster, H. H. Robinson. You are hereby notified that I have expended Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) in labor and improvements on the old claim situated in Pyramid Lake Mining District, Washoe Co., Nevada, as will appear by certificate filed March 24, 1890, also certificate filed March 24, 1890, in the office of the Recorder of said district. In order to hold said premises under the provisions of section 2341, revised statutes of the United States, being the amount required to hold the same for the years ending March 24, 1890 and 1891, and if within ninety days you fail or refuse to contribute your proportion of such expenditures, as a consequence, your interest in said claim will become the property of the subscriber under said certificate, to wit: DANIEL K. PYRAMID, March 24, 1890.

Notice.

I HAVE THIS DAY SOLD ALL MY INTEREST in the above property to BARNETT & CO. including all claims now or hereafter due to me in connection with the same for their sale and benefit. M. D. LEVY, & Co.
Reno, June 2nd 1890.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Following is the text of the resolutions adopted by the Republican National Convention on Saturday, June 8, 1890:

Republican rule has restored upon a solid basis payment in coin for all the national obligations and has given a currency absolutely good and legal, and equal in value to our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the nation from the point where six per cent bonds sold at 80, to that where four per cent bonds are eagerly sought at a premium. It has added to the national treasury more than $1,000,000 in 1890, more than $2,000,000 in 1891, more than $3,000,000 in 1892, more than $4,000,000 in 1893, more than $5,000,000 in 1894, more
